

"The dashboard shows how sales and profits vary across regions and product categories. While some regions drive higher revenue, not all categories contribute equally to profit. This suggests the need to realign focus toward more profitable segments regardless of sales volume."

Sum of Sales by Category

This bar chart compares total sales across the three main product categories: Technology leads with the highest sales, followed by furniture, then Office Supplies.

Sum of Profit by Region

This pie chart breaks down profit distribution by region. The East region generated the highest profit (around $108k, 37.85%), while the West and Central regions follow, the South has the lowest profit share.
